GOOD ATTENDANCE

GO-TO- CHURCH DAY MATERIALLY INCREASED ATTENDANCE.

WEATHER VERY COLD

This Affected Attendance to Some Extent—One Man There First Time in Twenty-Seven Years.

Go-to-Church Day in Maryville dawned clear and bright and 6 degrees below zero beside.

The attendance at all the churches was materially increased over the average attendance, although the weather was cold and much sickness prevails. There were 437 in classes at the First M. E. church Sunday school. Quite a number were at the various churches who had not been in church for years, one man confessing to absence from a house of worship for twenty-seven years. He liked it so well he has concluded to go all the time, which shows that it is the natural thing for a man to do, and that he is not being asked or required to do anything against his natural inclinations and desires when he is invited to church.

So, Go-to-Church Day was a pretty good day in Maryville. The ministers preached sermons along some line of public worship.

BUFF ORPINGTON CHICKS.

Fifty-Five Hatched on Wednesday—Sold Many Birds During the Last Year.

Mrs. N. J. Vickery of Arkoe is trying out the proof of the old saying, "the early bird catches the worm."

In order to have matured stock by next November she has started early with her brooder. On Wednesday morning, February 4, fifty-five Buff Orpington chicks were hatched, and all are as lively as crickets.

Mrs. Vickery shipped out 103 birds in 1913 and has sold thirteen since January 1 this year. During the month of January she gathered forty-four dozen eggs, the work of between thirty and thirty-five Buff Orpington hens.

Mrs. Vickery began raising chickens about two years ago, for the sake of something to do that would compel her to go out in the sunshine and fresh air every day, as she had devoted too much of her time to her children and household duties.

FUNERAL SUNDAY.

The Body of Mrs. Fannie Antrim Laid to Rest Sunday Afternoon at Ravenwood—Many Attended.

The funeral services for Mrs. Fannie Antrim, who was fatally burned Friday afternoon at her home, northeast of Parnell, were held Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church at Ravenwood were very largely attended. Rev. Ransford, the pastor, conducted the services and was assisted by Rev. Campbell of the Christian church of Sheridan.

Burial took place in Woodlawn cemetery at Ravenwood. The pall bearers were Charles C. Tebow, Fred Lyle, Joseph Proctor, A. G. Bentley, Joseph Yeary, John Steiger.

Mrs. Antrim's death was a shock to the entire community. She had lived in that community since she was 12 years old. She came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Irvin, to Ravenwood from her birth place, Newcastle, Lawrence county, Pa., and grew up and married there and was loved by many friends. Her husband died fourteen years ago, leaving her with six children. She proved herself of uncommon courage and strength of character, for she kept her family together, sent them to school, and with their help managed the farms they lived on in the Ravenwood community. Six months ago they moved to a farm two miles west of Sheridan, and they were again starting with renewed faith and effort.

Mrs. Antrim would have been 53 years old had she lived until the 20th day of February. She is survived by five sons, Warren and Leon Antrim, farmers near Parnell; Edsell, Edward and Perry at home, and a daughter, Miss Lulu, at home. Her father, Warren Irvin, and a brother, Edwin Irvin, live at Watertown, S. D., and a sister, Mrs. Hattie Rhoades, lives at Ravenwood, and a brother, Eldon Irvin at Maryville.

LIFE And the Game

Life is like a game of chess. The disappointed man may find that his particular game is a failure, because he sits waiting for somebody else to make a play when it's his own move. Things seem to have gone wrong generally. The other man has the bank account. The other man makes the wise investment. The other man annexes to himself all the desirable things of life. What's the trouble? Have you forgotten your part in the game?

Don't sit watching his brilliant moves and allow your own opportunities to get cornered. Take a hand in the game. Start an account with us and get so in earnest, so absorbed in the game that you compel others to watch. That's the way to win. It's your move NOW.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. J. E. Ames of the Scranton, Pa., correspondence school was a visitor at the Normal school Monday morning, and gave a short talk at assembly. Mr. Ames is a young man not long out of college and his talk contained much which appealed strongly to the students. He urged them to take part in all of the student activities of the school and to always be a booster.

* * *

Wednesday morning President Richardson announced that since he had called on other folks rather promiscuously for talks during the assembly hours, that he wouldn't shirk his part of the work, and so had called on himself for a speech. He then noticed that President Blagg of the board of regents had come in, and insisted on his speaking a few words, and the invitation was heartily seconded by the student body and faculty. Mr. Blagg came to the front—didn't even take his overcoat off—and commenced one of those "straight from the shoulder" talks of his. And he filled the assembly hour with some mighty good, solid things, as well as some humor, for the students to think about, and then ended by saying that he would come out and make a real "sure enuff" speech some day.

* * *

J. R. Brink has assumed his place at the Normal school during the past week and may be seen most any time of day around some part of the building seeing whether every one is comfortable and just how things in general are progressing.

* * *

The Philomathean Literary society gave a program during the assembly hour Friday morning which showed a very commendable amount of work and preparation on their part. The rostrum was decorated in blue and gold, the society colors. The training school attended the assembly.

The following program was given:

Yells—Society.

Society song—Society.

Important events of 1913—Francyl Rickenbrode.

Reading, "Encouragement"—Dale Hulet.

Piano solo—Dorothy Dale.

Original oration—Andrew Williams.

Reading, "Sign of the Cross"—Myrtle McPherron.

Original poem, "Bachelor's Rhyme"—Stephen Williams.

Piano solo—Lillie Nelson.

Where All Women Excel.

Jones was telling what an excellent cook his wife was. Smith boasted that his wife was a splendid dressmaker, and Robinson proudly stated that his wife was an unusually clever artist.

Brown was not to be outdone, so he remarked:

"My wife is a great linguist."

No one seemed impressed. There was a moment's silence, then Robinson spoke up.

"Humph," he exclaimed, "they all are!"—Youth's Companion.

MISSOURI NOTES

Judge McPherson Signs Appeal Petition in Rate Case.

OVERCHARGE SUITS IS BASIS

Railroads Want Federal Court to Settle Claims Filed Against Them by Passengers and Shippers—Roads Carry Case to Supreme Court.

Jurisdiction over claims aggregating $24,000,000 will be determined by the supreme court of the United States if that tribunal decides to hear an appeal signed by Judge Smith McPherson of the federal district court at Kansas City.

The appeal was prepared by attorneys for the thirteen railroads affected by suits for overcharges arising from the lengthy litigation involving the Missouri 2-cent passenger and maximum freight rate laws. The United States supreme court upheld the constitutionality of these laws last summer.

Judge McPherson last week held he had no power to retain jurisdiction of suits of passengers and shippers against the railways in a decree entering a mandate of the United States supreme court upholding the Missouri rate laws and dissolving an injunction granted the railways in 1909 against the enforcement of the laws.

The railways seek a supreme court order compelling Judge McPherson to take jurisdiction of the claims of passengers and shippers who paid the higher rate during the life of the injunction.

Judge McPherson signed the appeal petition at his home in Red Oak, Ia., where Eugene E. Ball, representing Frank Hagerman, counsel for the railroads, presented an assignment of errors as a basis of appeal.

COD LIVER OIL AND IRON.

Two Most World-Famed Tonics Combined in Vinol.

Cod liver oil and iron have proved to be the two most successful tonics the world has ever known—iron for the blood and the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil as a strength and tissue builder for body and nerves, and for the successful treatment of throat and lung troubles.

Two eminent French chemists discovered a method of separating the curative medicinal elements of the cods' livers from the oil or grease which is thrown away, but to these medicinal elements tonic iron is now added, thus combining in Vinol the two most world famed tonics.

As a body-builder and strength creator for weak, run-down people, for feeble old people, delicate children, to restore strength after sickness; and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis or pulmonary troubles we ask you to try Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Cut Some Ice During Cold Snap.

The hopes of the ice men of this section of the country have been rising higher with the passing of every hour since the cold snap came this way Thursday night. Friday the ice on the city reservoir and the river was many inches thick.

Everything is in readiness to begin cutting at any time, and if the cold weather continues the ice harvest will be opened up in full blast within a few days. It is the intention to commence at the most opportune time, and while of course it is the desire of all ice men to get as good ice as possible, they are determined on not letting it get away from them this time, unless there is a sudden and marked rise in the temperature within the next 36 or 48 hours.

While the weather man may turn out the kind of weather that will make plenty of good ice during the months of February and March, the anxiety of the ice men all over this section of the country is running just as high as if they knew that it was positively the last chance, and they are determined on taking advantage of this cold spell to harvest whatever they can.

CUMBRE TUNNEL STILL BURNING

Entrance Possible Only From Open South Portal.

VICTIMS BURNED TO A CRISP

Nothing but Charred Bones and Buttons Found by the Rescuing Party. Only One Body Identified—Families Await Dread Sight.

Cumbre, Chihuahua, Fef. 9.—The rescuing party which, with the aid of oxygen helmets and pulmotors, succeeded in penetrating the Cumbre tunnel from the south portal as far as the locomotive and first two cars of the passenger train, found nothing but charred bones and buttons. These are supposed to be the remains of the engineer and fireman of the ill-fated passenger train. They were probably killed when their engine crashed into the burning freight train which had been pushed into the tunnel by Castillo's bandits several hours before.

It is now believed that every one of the fifty or more passengers, including the crew, which were aboard the train when it dashed into the tunnel are dead, and whether the train was hurried into the tunnel to escape being captured by Castillo's bandits or sent headlong to its destruction by the bandits may never be known.

Timbers Still Burning.

Entrance from the north portal will not be possible until tomorrow, as the heavy timbering is still burning fiercely. The rescuing party which went in at the south end found its way greatly impeded, not only by the iron frame work of the burned cars, but by great masses of earth and rock which had fallen from the roof of the tunnel. Earth and rock are still falling, making exploration extremely dangerous, and there is a constant fear that other lives may be added to those already lost by cave-ins after the rescuers have penetrated the tunnel for some distance.

The wreckage is now covered by five to ten feet of earth and the hope of finding any bodies is that they may have been covered with earth before having been reached by the flames, which, judging from the experiences, is not probable, as for the whole distance traversed not a particle of the woodwork of all the cars burned was found.

One Body Identified.

The only recognizable remains thus far recovered are those of Juan Fernandez, the rear brakeman of the passenger train, who had escaped to within 200 feet of the north portal when he finally succumbed, dying in a sitting posture with a handkerchief tied about his nose and month in a vain endeavor to save himself from being smothered by the smoke and gas. It is believed that all the others on board the train, who were not maimed or killed when the passenger train ran into the wreckage of the freight, attempted to escape, as did Fernandez, but were overcome one by one and their remains will probably be found strewn along the 2,000 feet or more of the tunnel when entrance is finally forced and the debris cleared away.

The scenes around the entrance to the tunnel are heartrending. Scores of Mexican women and children, relatives of men who lost their lives in the tunnel, are crowded around both portals assisting in the bringing out of bodies of the dead, and have gone into camp, stoically awaiting action on the part of the rescuers.

VILLA GIVES PLEDGES

Will Protect Spanish Subjects and Investigate Tunnel Tragedy.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Secretary Bryan announced that assurances had been received from General Francisco Villa of his intention to protect Spanish subjects when he attacked Torreon.

Word also was received from the constitutionalist general of his intention to assist in fixing the responsibility for the tragedy at Cumbre tunnel, in which several Americans were suffocated. General Villa has complied with the request of the state department that a guard of soldiers accompany the party, composed mostly of Americans, who intend to recover the bodies. Secretary Bryan said he had ordered American Consul Edwards at Juarez to send a special messenger with the party to report on the affair.

Constitutionalists here say Maximo Castillo, who is charged with responsibility for the tunnel accident, is an irresponsible bandit with a small following, recognizing neither Huerta nor Carranza. They say he will be summarily dealt with by Villa if captured.

Zamor Elected President of Haiti.

Port au Prince, Feb. 9.—Orestes Zamor was elected president of Haiti at a meeting of congress by a vote of 93 out of 105 ballots cast. It was announced that after the election the detachments from the foreign warships would return to their ships, as conditions were tranquil.

GOOD ATTENDANCE

GO-TO- CHURCH DAY MATERIALLY INCREASED ATTENDANCE.

WEATHER VERY COLD

This Affected Attendance to Some Extent—One Man There First Time in Twenty-Seven Years.

Go-to-Church Day in Maryville dawned clear and bright and 6 degrees below zero beside.

The attendance at all the churches was materially increased over the average attendance, although the weather was cold and much sickness prevails. There were 437 in classes at the First M. E. church Sunday school. Quite a number were at the various churches who had not been in church for years, one man confessing to absence from a house of worship for twenty-seven years. He liked it so well he has concluded to go all the time, which shows that it is the natural thing for a man to do, and that he is not being asked or required to do anything against his natural inclinations and desires when he is invited to church.

So, Go-to-Church Day was a pretty good day in Maryville. The ministers preached sermons along some line of public worship.

Mr. Yeager has been employed in the Burlington freight offices of St. Joseph for the past fifteen years.

BUFF ORPINGTON CHICKS.

Fifty-Five Hatched on Wednesday—Sold Many Birds During the Last Year.

Mrs. N. J. Vickery of Arkoe is trying out the proof of the old saying, "the early bird catches the worm."

In order to have matured stock by next November she has started early with her brooder. On Wednesday morning, February 4, fifty-five Buff Orpington chicks were hatched, and all are as lively as crickets.

Mrs. Vickery shipped out 103 birds in 1913 and has sold thirteen since January 1 this year. During the month of January she gathered forty-four dozen eggs, the work of between thirty and thirty-five Buff Orpington hens.

Mrs. Vickery began raising chickens about two years ago, for the sake of something to do that would compel her to go out in the sunshine and fresh air every day, as she had devoted too much of her time to her children and household duties.

"Of course I was out of the race in the fall of 1912," he said to a party of friends, "when I sent that telegram to 'Billy' Cowherd unqualifiedly endorsing him for chief executive. But I am out for the office myself next time. I am going after it and I expect to land it."

FUNERAL SUNDAY.

The Body of Mrs. Fannie Antrim Laid to Rest Sunday Afternoon at Ravenwood—Many Attended.

The funeral services for Mrs. Fannie Antrim, who was fatally burned Friday afternoon at her home, northeast of Parnell, were held Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church at Ravenwood were very largely attended. Rev. Ransford, the pastor, conducted the services and was assisted by Rev. Campbell of the Christian church of Sheridan.

Burial took place in Woodlawn cemetery at Ravenwood. The pall bearers were Charles C. Tebow, Fred Lyle, Joseph Proctor, A. G. Bentley, Joseph Yeary, John Steiger.

Mrs. Antrim's death was a shock to the entire community. She had lived in that community since she was 12 years old. She came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Irvin, to Ravenwood from her birth place, Newcastle, Lawrence county, Pa., and grew up and married there and was loved by many friends. Her husband died fourteen years ago, leaving her with six children. She proved herself of uncommon courage and strength of character, for she kept her family together, sent them to school, and with their help managed the farms they lived on in the Ravenwood community. Six months ago they moved to a farm two miles west of Sheridan, and they were again starting with renewed faith and effort.

Mrs. Antrim would have been 52 years old had she lived until the 20th day of February. She is survived by five sons, Warren and Leon Antrim, farmers near Parnell; Edsell, Edward and Perry at home, and a daughter, Miss Lulu, at home. Her father, Warren Irvin, and a brother, Edwin Irvin, live at Watertown, S. D., and a sister, Mrs. Hattie Rhoades, lives at Ravenwood, and a brother, Eldon Irvin at Maryville.

LIFE And the Game

Life is like a game of chess. The disappointed man may find that his particular game is a failure, because he sits waiting for somebody else to make a play when it's his own move. Things seem to have gone wrong generally. The other man has the bank account. The other man makes the wise investment. The other man annexes to himself all the desirable things of life. What's the trouble? Have you forgotten your part in the game?

Don't sit watching his brilliant moves and allow your own opportunities to get cornered. Take a hand in the game. Start an account with us and get so in earnest, so absorbed in the game that you compel others to watch. That's the way to win. It's your move NOW.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. J. E. Ames of the Scranton, Pa., correspondence school was a visitor at the Normal school Monday morning, and gave a short talk at assembly. Mr. Ames is a young man not long out of college and his talk contained much which appealed strongly to the students. He urged them to take part in all of the student activities of the school and to always be a booster.

* * *

Wednesday morning President Richardson announced that since he had called on other folks rather promiscuously for talks during the assembly hours, that he wouldn't shirk his part of the work, and so had called on himself for a speech. He then noticed that President Blagg of the board of regents had come in, and insisted on his speaking a few words, and the invitation was heartily seconded by the student body and faculty. Mr. Blagg came to the front—didn't even take his overcoat off—and commenced one of those "straight from the shoulder" talks of his. And he filled the assembly hour with some mighty good, solid things, as well as some humor, for the students to think about, and then ended by saying that he would come out and make a real "sure enuff" speech some day.

* * *

J. R. Brink has assumed his place at the Normal school during the past week and may be seen most any time of day around some part of the building seeing whether every one is comfortable and just how things in general are progressing.

* * *

The Philomathean Literary society gave a program during the assembly hour Friday morning which showed a very commendable amount of work and preparation on their part. The rostrum was decorated in blue and gold, the society colors. The training school attended the assembly.

The following program was given:

Yells—Society.

Society song—Society.

Important events of 1913—Francyl Rickenbrode.

Reading, "Encouragement"—Dale Hulet.

Piano solo—Dorothy Dale.

Where All Women Excel.

Jones was telling what an excellent cook his wife was. Smith boasted that his wife was a splendid dressmaker, and Robinson proudly stated that his wife was an unusually clever artist.

Brown was not to be outdone, so he remarked:

"My wife is a great linguist."

No one seemed impressed. There was a moment's silence, then Robinson spoke up.

"Humph," he exclaimed, "they all are!"—Youth's Companion.

MISSOURI NOTES

Judge McPherson Signs Appeal Petition in Rate Case.

OVERCHARGE SUITS IS BASIS

Railroads Want Federal Court to Settle Claims Filed Against Them by Passengers and Shippers—Roads Carry Case to Supreme Court.

Jurisdiction over claims aggregating $24,000,000 will be determined by the supreme court of the United States if that tribunal decides to hear an appeal signed by Judge Smith McPherson of the federal district court at Kansas City.

The appeal was prepared by attorneys for the thirteen railroads affected by suits for overcharges arising from the lengthy litigation involving the Missouri 2-cent passenger and maximum freight rate laws. The United States supreme court upheld the constitutionality of these laws last summer.

Judge McPherson last week held he had no power to retain jurisdiction of suits of passengers and shippers against the railways in a decree entering a mandate of the United States supreme court upholding the Missouri rate laws and dissolving an injunction granted the railways in 1909 against the enforcement of the laws.

The railways seek a supreme court order compelling Judge McPherson to take jurisdiction of the claims of passengers and shippers who paid the higher rate during the life of the injunction.

Judge McPherson signed the appeal petition at his home in Red Oak, Ia., where Eugene E. Ball, representing Frank Hagerman, counsel for the railroads, presented an assignment of errors as a basis of appeal.

COD LIVER OIL AND IRON.

Two Most World-Famed Tonics Combined in Vinol.

Cod liver oil and iron have proved to be the two most successful tonics the world has ever known—iron for the blood and the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil as a strength and tissue builder for body and nerves, and for the successful treatment of throat and lung troubles.

Two eminent French chemists discovered a method of separating the curative medicinal elements of the cods' livers from the oil or grease which is thrown away, but to these medicinal elements tonic iron is now added, thus combining in Vinol the two most world famed tonics.

As a body-builder and strength creator for weak, run-down people, for feeble old people, delicate children, to restore strength after sickness; and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis or pulmonary troubles we ask you to try Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Cut Some Ice During Cold Snap.

The hopes of the ice men of this section of the country have been rising higher with the passing of every hour since the cold snap came this way Thursday night. Friday the ice on the city reservoir and the river was many inches thick.

Everything is in readiness to begin cutting at any time, and if the cold weather continues the ice harvest will be opened up in full blast within a few days. It is the intention to commence at the most opportune time, and while of course it is the desire of all ice men to get as good ice as possible, they are determined on not letting it get away from them this time, unless there is a sudden and marked rise in the temperature within the next 36 or 48 hours.

While the weather man may turn out the kind of weather that will make plenty of good ice during the months of February and March, the anxiety of the ice men all over this section of the country is running just as high as if they knew that it was positively the last chance, and they are determined on taking advantage of this cold spell to harvest whatever they can.

CUMBRE TUNNEL STILL BURNING

Entrance Possible Only From Open South Portal.

VICTIMS BURNED TO A CRISP

Nothing but Charred Bones and Buttons Found by the Rescuing Party. Only One Body Identified—Families Await Dread Sight.

Cumbre, Chihuahua, Fef. 9.—The rescuing party which, with the aid of oxygen helmets and pulmotors, succeeded in penetrating the Cumbre tunnel from the south portal as far as the locomotive and first two cars of the passenger train, found nothing but charred bones and buttons. These are supposed to be the remains of the engineer and fireman of the ill-fated passenger train. They were probably killed when their engine crashed into the burning freight train which had been pushed into the tunnel by Castillo's bandits several hours before.

It is now believed that every one of the fifty or more passengers, including the crew, which were aboard the train when it dashed into the tunnel are dead, and whether the train was hurried into the tunnel to escape being captured by Castillo's bandits or sent headlong to its destruction by the bandits may never be known.

Timbers Still Burning.

Entrance from the north portal will not be possible until tomorrow, as the heavy timbering is still burning fiercely. The rescuing party which went in at the south end found its way greatly impeded, not only by the iron frame work of the burned cars, but by great masses of earth and rock which had fallen from the roof of the tunnel. Earth and rock are still falling, making exploration extremely dangerous, and there is a constant fear that other lives may be added to those already lost by cave-ins after the rescuers have penetrated the tunnel for some distance.

The wreckage is now covered by five to ten feet of earth and the hope of finding any bodies is that they may have been covered with earth before having been reached by the flames, which, judging from the experiences, is not probable, as for the whole distance traversed not a particle of the woodwork of all the cars burned was found.

One Body Identified.

The only recognizable remains thus far recovered are those of Juan Fernandez, the rear brakeman of the passenger train, who had escaped to within 200 feet of the north portal when he finally succumbed, dying in a sitting posture with a handkerchief tied about his nose and month in a vain endeavor to save himself from being smothered by the smoke and gas. It is believed that all the others on board the train, who were not maimed or killed when the passenger train ran into the wreckage of the freight, attempted to escape, as did Fernandez, but were overcome one by one and their remains will probably be found strewn along the 2,000 feet or more of the tunnel when entrance is finally forced and the debris cleared away.

The scenes around the entrance to the tunnel are heartrending. Scores of Mexican women and children, relatives of men who lost their lives in the tunnel, are crowded around both portals assisting in the bringing out of bodies of the dead, and have gone into camp, stoically awaiting action on the part of the rescuers.

VILLA GIVES PLEDGES

Will Protect Spanish Subjects and Investigate Tunnel Tragedy.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Secretary Bryan announced that assurances had been received from General Francisco Villa of his intention to protect Spanish subjects when he attacked Torreon.

Word also was received from the constitutionalist general of his intention to assist in fixing the responsibility for the tragedy at Cumbre tunnel, in which several Americans were suffocated. General Villa has complied with the request of the state department that a guard of soldiers accompany the party, composed mostly of Americans, who intend to recover the bodies. Secretary Bryan said he had ordered American Consul Edwards at Juarez to send a special messenger with the party to report on the affair.

Constitutionalists here say Maximo Castillo, who is charged with responsibility for the tunnel accident, is an irresponsible bandit with a small following, recognizing neither Huerta nor Carranza. They say he will be summarily dealt with by Villa if captured.

Zamor Elected President of Haiti.

Port au Prince, Feb. 9.—Orestes Zamor was elected president of Haiti at a meeting of congress by a vote of 93 out of 105 ballots cast. It was announced that after the election the detachments from the foreign warships would return to their ships, as conditions were tranquil.
